

Why study at The Hague University of Applied Sciences (THUAS)?

Let's change. You. Us. The world.

That's our message at The Hague University of Applied Sciences (THUAS). We want to empower our students to change and improve the world they live in, but this can only happen if we work together – if we evolve and change. We constantly need to apply new perspectives and solutions to resolve present and future challenges. We'll find the answers more quickly if we're prepared to share and apply each other's insights, skills and methods.

A degree from the Netherlands

The Dutch education system is one of the most innovative and forward thinking in the world. It's based on student-led learning, analytical debate and hands-on experience. Dutch higher education has an international reputation for its high quality, which is maintained through a stringent national quality assurance system.

Hands-on education

Because we are a Dutch university of applied sciences, you'll experience a hands-on, open-minded and interactive learning environment. We employ a problem-solving approach, just like the real professional world, with exercises that nurture personal leadership skills, like games, debate and group work.

A true international community

THUAS is a mini-United Nations with 26,000 students from more than 150 different countries on campus. Our global, innovative attitude is reflected throughout our curricula and in our four central themes: The Next Economy, Quality of Life: People and Technology, Good Governance for a Safe World and Connected Learning. We also work closely with over 300 exchange partners from more than 50 countries, from Brazil and China to Australia, USA and several European countries.

Launch your global career

Although a small country in size, the Netherlands has a big international presence. Some of the world's biggest multinationals, including Philips, Heineken, KLM, Shell, ING Bank and Unilever, are Dutch. As the International City of Peace, Justice and Security, The Hague is bursting with international legal institutions. The city boasts around 131 international institutes and 80 justice organisations and together with New York, Geneva and Vienna it is one of the United Nations cities.

About Holland

The Netherlands, also known as Holland, is a safe and happy country by international standards. Holland's bustling cities are easy to navigate by bike or public transportation, with affordable travel options for students. The Dutch people are globally respected for their open-minded, international and innovative perspectives, and over 95% speak English.

The Hague: City of peace and justice

The Hague (Den Haag), welcomes people from all over the world to work together on solutions to global problems. With the Peace Palace at the centre of it all, The Hague is truly an international city of peace and justice.

It is a cosmopolitan city that attracts over 40,000 students, making it truly diverse. THUAS is located in the heart of the city centre, allowing students to get an all-round student experience.

You'll never run out of things to do in The Hague:

- Head to the beach, just a short bike 15-minute ride from the city centre
- View the artwork of Dutch masters at the 30+ museums or watch a performance by a nationally renowned theatre company
- Visit the bustling public outdoor markets offering local foods, antiques, books and goods
- Sample Dutch food favorites or visit one of the popular international restaurants or takeaway shops.

Your accommodation

It is important to find the right place to live during your studies at THUAS. The Hague Pathway College will support you in finding appropriate quality accommodation close to the university campus. If you'd like to make your own arrangements THUAS can provide you with helpful information and guidance.

Travel across Europe and beyond

Your student visa will grant you the unique opportunity to travel across Europe during your studies. Hop on a train or bus and you'll be in Amsterdam within an hour and Paris or Brussels within a few hours.

Study and post-work employment options

During your studies, you are allowed to work up to 16 hours a week or you can work full-time during your summer holidays. After graduating, you are eligible to stay for one year applying for jobs thanks to the Netherlands' Orientation Year for Graduates Seeking Employment.
